Redeeming the Youth – Providing a Solution to the Leadership Crisis in the world

Vision: See a new Generation of students who will repair the ruins in our culture and to be people who may be perfect. Colossians 1:28 and Philippians 3.

Mission: Equip students with the tools to make an impact for the Glory of God.

Here are some of the goals for our students:

1. Help them grow in their knowledge of God and His word the time they are with us.
2. Inspire them to find the talents and tools they have been given and give them a venue to use those tools.
3. Help them get 30-60 credits of College credits so they can start at a 4-year college as sophomores or juniors in the field they choose to study in. Depending on what field it might be they could start as 2nd semester juniors. This all depends on how long the student stays in the program.
4. For those who do not want to go to college, they will learn life skills that will help them wherever they go.
5. Provide them with job shadowing opportunities and career training opportunities so they see where they will fit in the workforce.
6. Teach them how to use the workforce as an opportunity to make an impact.
7. Raise up the next generation of thinkers who will make an impact in ways similar to Leonhard Euler and Isaac Newton and shine in whatever ways they are gifted.

Time: 9-12pm (Free Breakfast and snacks provided before 9am) on Saturdays.

9-10:15am- Worldview and Apologetics (includes discussion opportunities).

10:30am-11:45am- LIFE and Leadership skills (Finance and Budgeting, Marriage Preparation, Career Exploration, Integrity, Time Management, Pursuing Excellence, Career Character, and so on).

THE PROBLEM

The glory of the youth as the scripture says is his strength, but where there is no vision even strength becomes a liability. This is true about situation with the youth demographic today, there seems to be a thick blanket of blackness and ignorance obscuring vision and reducing the human end to just satisfying mundane and most times negative tending desires and aspirations. This prevailing circumstance therefore calls for an urgent intervention, as not only are our youth increasingly vulnerable but most importantly goodly legacies are being eroded and still very much under threat. Any intervention may be largely ineffective if it is not done within context of when man is still youth. Scripture supplies admonition to this end: that the endeavor pursuing purpose and fellowship is best undertaken in and with youthfulness, because there comes a time when the soul would find no pleasure and that time is the period after youthfulness.

SOLUTION

Adullam is an initiative patterned after the experience of 400 people with King David at the cave of Adullam. According to scripture, every one that was in distress (people who due to some circumstance have become vulnerable), and every one that was in debt (people who feel they owe the society a great deal and are not matching these expectations), and every one that was discontented (people tired of the status quo), gathered themselves unto him; and he became a captain over them. This inadequate group of overwhelmingly young people according to later records eventually became great men of war, going on to achieve great feats in service to the nation of Israel and God.

This program aims to refocus the energies and potentials of young people to a goal bigger and beyond them i.e. to please God and fulfill purpose. The program will provide tutoring, guidance and counseling, mentoring and of course a conducive environment for the cultivation of very productive relationships between peers.

As part of requirement for a successful completion of the program, participants would be encouraged to take up jobs within the local area or engage in community service. This program would be executed in conjunction with the Fellowship of Christian Professionals and the Pathfinder's School which would be providing mentoring.

Adullam provides opportunities for companies to groom their future workers through internships and job shadowing opportunities.

Schedule

Students will also get opportunities to serve and volunteer in the community. At the end of their time in Adullam, students will be more diligent in service to others.

During the times when they are not in class, students can work on their individual college course work or at their work places. Students can also use our office space to work on their school work or vision casting projects. Students will be assigned to a coach who will monitor their progress in academic and career studies.

THE CLEP OPTION

For students who will rather use the CLEP option to get college credits, we will work to give them a structure and a plan that will enable them to excel on their CLEP exams.

Students who are in middle school and high school can also join this part of the program if they are ready to do CLEP testing. After students review the topics from the courses below, they should be able to take the CLEP test and if they succeed on the test, they can receive college credit. We plan to teach the students what they need to master for each subject which means they will be more than ready for any test on the subject matter. Our Goal is not to teach to the test but instead to teach for mastery. This option will help students save but it will also provide them with a Biblical perspective on several issues.

We believe this is a much cheaper and efficient option as students work day jobs during the week.
